San Juan Island.

The whole United States, as well as the whole Dominion of Canada, are just now on the tip-toe of expectation as to the decision of the Emperor William in the [illegible] between Great Britain and the United States, in which is involved the question as to the [illegible] sovereign jurisdiction over the island of San Juan and the [illegible] other islands adjacent thereto and interested in the award about to be made. If our morning contemporary is well informed, the matter is already disposed of, and the United States have got the islands. Where it gets its information, we know not. Probably it is in the confidence of Bismarck, or even King William himself—if not, we are indisposed to place any great degree of reliance on the source from which it derives its information in advance of the Courts of St. James and Washington. We see no reason in the world for supposing that the [illegible] has been decided in favor [illegible] United States, unless it be that [illegible] better right to it than England. Viewing the matter, as we do, from the British standpoint, we are at a loss to conceive how King William can do otherwise than award the islands in question to Great Britain. The most incontrovertible evidence has been produced by the British Government to show that when the treaty was made the channel referred to as forming the dividing line between the nations was the Rosario channel, and that it was not until after the discovery of gold in British Columbia and the sub-quent use of De-Haro channel as the main route to the Gulf of Georgia that the United States put in any claim to proprietary rights over the island of San Juan. Up to that time it was in the undisputed possession of the British Government. There is no reason whatever to doubt that every attention has been given to the representations of Messrs. Cartier and Macdougall to the Imperial Government relative to the subject, and that whatever evidence they were in possession of likely to influence the mind of the German Emperor in favor of Britain's claims has been laid before him. We believe the whole question will be decided upon its merits, and should the islands fall to the United States, which we conceive to be very unlikely, we must just make up our minds that Uncle Sam has a better right to them than we have, and wish him luck in the acquisition of so important a piece of territory. "But," says our neighbor, "if England loses San Juan the United States will be placed in command of the only channel of communication between Victoria and the Mainland, the only way to the open [illegible] purchased by the Dominion. As a strategic point we think our contemporary greatly overrates the importance of San Juan Island. Were it in the hands of the Americans to-morrow, and were hostilities to commence between the United States and Great Britain, no fortifications that they could erect could [illegible] British vessels navigating the waters separating San Juan from Vancouver Island. There are no guns at present in [illegible] that could stop a British man-of-war passing through Haro Channel, or [illegible] felt disposed to do so. Guns batteries erected on any portion of San Juan Island. It is all [illegible] than keeping the door of the Pacific; but should any difficulty ever arise between the two nations, it would soon be seen which of them had possession [illegible] either to open or close it. Thanks, however, to the Washington Treaty, all probabilities of a rupture of the friendly relations between England and the United States have been effectually removed, and it is doubtful if there be a man now living who will see the day that these two Anglo Saxon nations will wage war with each other. Their policy is peace; the policy held upon which they are every [illegible] to be coerced with each other, is that of the advancement of civilization, the extension of commerce, the diffusion of knowledge, and the elevation and uplifting generally of the human race throughout the world. Their mission is to be workers together for the good of mankind. Speaking the same language, governed by kindred laws, bound to each other by common origin, the writers of the same family, related to each other by inheritance, it were idle fully to speculate upon the value of a speck of territory like San Juan Island to either one or the other, from a point of strategic importance in the event of a war between America and England. We think such a contingency is ever likely to arise, and hence the importance of San Juan [illegible] worthy of consideration. It might have been otherwise had there been no Treaty of Washington to set at rest the Alabama Claims, the Fisheries dispute, the St. Lawrence navigation question, and other matters which in the past have caused unpleasant feelings between them. We are firmly convinced that never are the Island of right belongs to Great Britain, and we see no reason whatever to doubt that it will be awarded her by the Imperial arbitrator to whom the question has been referred. If, however, England should lose it, we shall regret that the verdict has gone against her, although we shall be glad to see the question amicably settled, and the Americans delighters enjoying the possession of the islands said by an impartial judge to be rightfully theirs.

Real Estate at Auction.

Messrs. Davies' large auction sale of real estate, embracing improved and other property in the leading streets and thoroughfares [illegible] suburban lots, farm lands, [illegible] to-day at 12 noon. The above offers to the public the most desirable choice of real property placed in the market since the commencement of the history of British Columbia. EDUCATIONAL.—Mr. Jessop, Superintendent of Schools, left Barkerville on the 18th for Victoria. Mr. Jessop proposes to hold public meetings throughout the Mainland, on his trip [illegible] and we have much satisfaction in learning that a temporary arrangement has been made with Mrs. Hall under which the Williams Creek School would be reopened on Monday, 16th Sept. At the meeting held on the 16th, in Barkerville, he was introduced and in a clear speech set forth the advantages of education and the liberal facilities made in regard to it by the Legislature, he invited the audience to express their views and wishes in respect of their local school.

Mr. Thompson, M.P., then came forward and moved, and Mr. Barnard seconded the following resolution:

"That in view of the [illegible] in some of the openly populated districts of this Province, it is the opinion of this meeting that [illegible] Boarding Schools should be established in some convenient locality or localities, the buildings to be erected, and the educational department provided by Government, parents and guardians to contribute a reasonable sum for defraying their children's board."

G. Farnham, Mrs. Morrison, A. J. Bowie, C. E. Weldon, wife and infant, and twenty-three in the steerage.

[illegible] must not be alarmed. The resignation of the Ministry of the King of the Sandwich Islands is what we have to announce. From the [illegible] this:—It has already been made known to the public that His Majesty's Ministry have tendered their resignations, which His Majesty has been graciously pleased to accept. The Ministers will, in the meantime, retain their offices, for the performance of purely formal [illegible], and their successors are appointed. There has been, undoubtedly, a want of harmony in the Ministry for some time, and this being the case, the course they have pursued, is judicious as well as patriotic.

SOUTH SAANICH.—A Harvest Home service was held in the church at South Saanich on Sunday last. The service commenced at 3 p.m. Evening prayer was said by the Rev. Frank S. Gribbell, officiating Minister of the parish. An eloquent sermon was preached by the Lord Bishop of Columbia, from Isaiah, 55th chapter, 10th and 11th verses. A gift of the Diocesan Church Society, towards which [illegible] were contributed. Settlers and their families from all parts of the district, and of several denominations, attended and took [illegible] in a hearty service of thanksgiving to God.

PORT DUFFERIN STATISTICS.—The number of post offices now in operation in British Columbia is 27. The aggregate length of all the mail routes exclusive of the routes to Olympia and San Francisco, is 2,200 miles, of which 1,417 miles are land, and 783 water service. The annual travel of the mail over these routes is 125,768 miles, 77,842 being traversed by land, and 47,926 by water. Returns are now being kept at all the offices, with the object of estimating the number of letters, papers, books, and parcels delivered

The fall meeting of the Seattle Jockey Club [illegible] and continue for four days.

The Annual Grand Lodge of Washington Territory convenes in Olympia on the 19th.

The Coal Company have put in a new drum, with [illegible] purpose of lowering the coal cars to the wharf. Under the judicious management of Mr. Diamond, the works are growing into great proportions.

The surveying [illegible] of the North Pacific Railway in the vicinity of Steilacoom, have returned to Olympia, their work being completed. The party at work on Cheballis are also at Olympia. Both parties are expected to the state to the vicinity of Seattle to commence operations within this week or the next.

One day last week Mr. D. K. Lamb, Special Treasury Agent of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, unexpectedly went to Olympia and visited officially different business houses in the city, in order to ascertain whether or not the provisions of the stamp act were properly observed. At the store of Wa Chung, one of the leading Chinese merchants, was found the only infraction of any moment. Wa Chung has lost $400 worth of cigars, and, at the next term of the Court, will have to expend to him a similar amount in fees.

A Portland paper says that "the first nine of the Olympia Base Ball Club have been itching for honors of late, and, in pursuance of a challenge duly sent, the boys were cleaned out the other day by the Victoria Club. The score stood 55 to 32."

About [illegible] Canadians have arrived at Olympia from the railroad during the past week. Three hundred are on the road between there and Kalama, the greater portion will stay on the road, and the remainder will go to the mines. Many others are bound to Victoria.

Renewal Invitation From the Hospital.

Advertising of the 31st ult.—Professor Plummer, having returned from Addi, gave another of his pleasing entertainments at Buffum's Hall, on the 26th inst. The tidal disturbance of Friday of last week, August 23rd, began in Honolulu by a sudden ebb of the sea, the fall being about 1 foot. The steamer Olympia, Capt. Thorne, arrived on Thursday noon, nine days from San Francisco, connecting with the Nebraska for the Colonies, which vessel proceeded on her way at 7 o'clock the same evening. She has proved herself a good sea-boat, though too small for this trade, being [illegible] than 500 tons measurement. She sailed at dusk on the tide, but without getting beyond the heads was compelled to, in order to go [illegible] to some accident to the management of the steam pipes. Berry [illegible] water was introduced. She finally sailed at 3 p. m. of the 20th. Vessels in port—Nor. Bar. ship Georges, Behrens, loading; Brit. ship Ino, Williams; Brit. ship George Thompson, Shepherd, discharging; Am. stmr. Olympia, C. M. Thorne, loading; Am. schr. C. M. Ward, Bickmen, discharging.

CANADIAN CLOTHING.—Messrs. Muir, Ewan & Co., the great clothing manufacturers of Montreal, have appointed Messrs. Janion, Rhodes & Co. their agents for the sale of their clothing in British Columbia, and have made them a large and valuable shipment, which they have manufactured expressly for this market. It has arrived in San Francisco, and Messrs. J. R. & Co. expect to receive it by the next steamer. Mr. Rhodes took samples of clothing with him to Canada last year to show the styles and cut most in favor here, and left them with Messrs. Muir, Ewan & Co., so that the goods [illegible] will doubtless compare with all the best qualities of the Canadian woolen goods with the style and finish. Mr. Muir of this firm is the inventor of a sewing machine working fifty needles at one time, and [illegible] they have [illegible] to their factory.

MASONIC.—Columbia Royal Arch Chapter, No. 120 on the register of the Supreme Grand [illegible] tion and installation of the officers of this Chapter took place yesterday, the 23rd inst., at 2:30 p. m., when the following officers were duly installed:

POLICE COURT.—Monday is a day in the Police Court upon which the dock is usually crowded by drunkards or other prisoners. [illegible] arrested on the previous days. Strange to say there wasn't a single case yesterday.

Such matches are most beneficial to the service both regular and volunteer. The usual toasts were given and answered, when the [illegible] sang "God Save the Queen" in fine style and with a will, going on board of their ships at 11 o'clock. Cheers were given for Capt. DUE.—The steamer California, from Portland for the Sound and this port, is expected to arrive at Port Townsend yesterday.

The Australian Colonies.

[Correspondence of the S. F. Bulletin of Sept. 13th.]

MELBOURNE, July 30th, 1872.

The principal event of the month has been the receipt of the first telegram direct from London. The message, transmitted by submarine [illegible] line, was sent on the 2nd July. Information also reached us that the cable to Java was out of order, and unfortunately since then all communication has ceased. We are in hopes, however, that it will speedily be in working order, as a steamer has been dispatched to repair the damage. There is, seriously, a gap of some 50 or 60 miles to be wired over in the overland line, and as soon as this is finished there will be unbroken communication with North Australia, some 2,000 miles in Queensland, and thence with all the principal cities in Europe and America. Another cable will shortly be laid to Queensland, so that we will possess in about twelve months two cables connecting us with the outer world. Fancy a man reading in the evening papers news of occurrences which have taken place in the morning some fourteen thousand miles away.

NEW CABLE.

The irregularity with which Mr. Webb's steamers have arrived ever since the service has been started, has contributed to render this line very unpopular. Complaints have been continually made, but no alteration for the better has taken place. It will be remembered that some months since Mr. Duffy agreed to recommend to Parliament that the colony should subsidize Mr. Webb's line, in place thereof Mr. Duffy has resigned his office as Premier, and his successor, Sir Francis, on his accession to office, immediately engaged to let Mr. Webb have a subsidy on the terms proposed by Mr. Duffy, but that if an efficient line of steamers would make Melbourne the terminus of the California route, the Victorian Government would be prepared to grant a subsidy.

The unpopularity has been increased by the [illegible] of our leading journals upon the debate in the Senate on the subsidy question. It is stated that if a line of steamers [illegible] are [illegible] to be better acquainted with the merits of Mr. Webb's steamers than we are, not to refuse to grant any subsidy whatever, but to [illegible] them some [illegible] use of our harbor, docks, quays, and slips, [illegible] should provide a line of our own. This is about to be done. An agent of the Australian Steam Navigation Company has proceeded to England to order several first class steamers suitable for the Pacific.

The dreaded scourge of small-pox has appeared in several places in New Zealand and Australia. The immigration to England has driven Wellington from the other country with one case on board, and one patient died on the next case occurred at Auckland shortly after the arrival of the Nebraska. At that time a number of the passengers were transferred to the Hero, and brought on to Sydney and Melbourne. Several cases have occurred in Sandhurst, and the utmost alarm has been created throughout the colonies. Owing to stringent precautionary measures that were adopted, the disease has been confined to the localities, where it first broke out, and the excitement has almost entirely subsided.

EDUCATION.

The Government intends to introduce a Bill into Parliament providing for compulsory education. It will be free, and it is likely it will embrace some of the principal points of the California system. A Central Board will be appointed, and compulsory schools. The Roman Catholic clergy are much averse to the proposed plan, but all other denominations are strongly in favor of the measure. It will be purely secular and free from all sectarian influences.

POLITICAL.

Since my last, a most unexpected change has taken place in the political world. Mr. Duffy has been defeated in the Assembly, and in consequence has had to resign and Mr. Francis is now the Premier of Victoria.

During the recess, Mr. Duffy stated in his speeches while attending public banquets that if any of his measures were defeated by the Opposition in Parliament, he would dissolve the House and appeal to the country. This then roused the ire of the members composing the Opposition, and on the assembling of Parliament, a vote of want of confidence was carried. Mr. Duffy then asked the Governor to grant a dissolution, but Lord Canterbury declined to accede to his request, and Mr. Duffy had no course open but to make his bow and retire. He might have remained in office for years to come had it not been for his excessive vanity. He offended his greatest friends, and by his egotistical conduct raised up a host of enemies. He may well apply to himself the quotation "sic transit gloria mundi." His successor will adopt most of his political programme, and we are promised that all descriptions of public works will be undertaken without delay.

THE REVENUE.

The revenue returns for the year ending 30th June were published in the Government Gazette of the 16th inst. From a comparison of the results of the years 1871 and 1872 it appears that the revenue received in 1872 shows an increase over 1871 of £453,025 6s. Nearly every department shows an increase, and the finances of the Colony are never in a more flourishing condition.

THEATRICAL.

Two new theatres are in course of erection and will be finished in a day or two. Mr. Coppin will reopen the Theatre Royal with a new company, and Mr. Hoyt, the proprietor of the Prince of Wales, has leased that theatre to Mr. [illegible], who will open early in August, with a [illegible] leading lady. [illegible] have been played for [illegible] months, and the attendance showing any signs of falling off. Mr. Pyster still occupies the Princess. The opera season of this theatre will, however, soon close, when [illegible] season will [illegible] under the management of Mr. Brid[illegible].

COMMERCIAL.

As is usual at the closing of the first half of the year, business of nearly all descriptions is extremely dull in the import market. There is, however, an exception to this rule in favor of American goods. In timber the market is [illegible], and a good amount of business has been transacted.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

The Treasurer in his financial delivery stated that the revenue for last year showed a deficit, and intimated to the House his intention [illegible] to propose any new taxation. The total revenue for the year amounted to £1,[illegible], being £[illegible] less than the estimate, and £[illegible] less than the previous year. He [illegible] the policy contemplated. Trade generally runs in a most flourishing condition, and the Treasurer told the House that he hoped to have a surplus at the close of the present fiscal year.

The Border Duties bill and the Divorce bill passed the Legislative Assembly, but the former was rejected by the Council.

Some monster cannon have arrived from [illegible] a month or two.

The American Consul has informed the Agricultural Society that the samples of wool sent by the Society to the United States have met with the highest approval from the wool merchants and manufacturers there. Agencies are to be established in the colonies for the purchase of wool for the Boston manufacturers.

The Paramatta river murderers, Nicholls and Lester, were executed lately, both expressing penitence, and took occasion to address "warnings" to their fellow men.

At Newcastle coals sell at [illegible] per ton. Competition is keen in this trade. Large orders have been received from India and China at an advance on this rate.

The half yearly returns of the yield of gold shows an increase of 66,275 ounces.

The Earl of Kimberley, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, has addressed a dispatch to the Governor on the subject of intercolonial free trade. He states in effect that Her Majesty's Government might not feel justified in refusing to allow the colonists to adopt the policy which they think best for their own interests, but points out that if a prohibitive duty is imposed upon the introduction of British goods, it would be the means of weakening the ties which now connect the Australian colonies with the Empire. I may mention that there is a disposition in nearly all the colonies to foster local manufactures, and impose heavy duties on all British goods. The protectionists are in the majority, and seek to carry out their views with a high hand.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

The South Australian territory, through which the overland telegraph runs, occupied a large space of the attention of the Assembly. Land will shortly be sold at [illegible] per acre, and every encouragement is to be given to bona fide settlers. Gold is said to have been discovered in large quantities, and there is every indication of a [illegible] in this almost new country. A large number of influential people are in favor of the transcontinental railway, but the Government require further information before they will grant any concession to the promoters. An [illegible] has been received from Melbourne contractors, offering to construct the line for 10,000,000 acres, but this amount asked by the original promoters.

The Town Council.

[illegible] Can you afford, the dear public, any [illegible] of your city [illegible] salary by the [illegible] Council? Certainly they have been [illegible] to the extent of $1,000 [illegible] and [illegible] recent [illegible]. I observe from your report of our late meeting of the Council that you submitted a new law [illegible] proposal to give them a salary [illegible] mentioned, but I [illegible] his [illegible] was) will be fully [illegible] to [illegible] with the salary before [illegible] the [illegible] if such a [illegible] that the Council [illegible] economy [illegible] the [illegible] law [illegible] before [illegible] whether or not certainly should [illegible] done. [illegible] Governor's [illegible] raising money [illegible] improvements, is quite a different thing to asking authority to raise money for paying debts already incurred.

I observe there is infrequent [illegible] the city being [illegible] equally as these are [illegible] $[illegible]). Which [illegible] have waited till the Council [illegible] much needed repairs to make the streets safe, [illegible] a beginning [illegible] were put for want of a [illegible] authority to do [illegible] time. [illegible] Victoria [illegible] of good water [illegible] as possible, and if the city [illegible] to be [illegible] thus early with nothing to show for it, the chances of raising money for the important work referred to will scarcely [illegible]. Our Town Council would [illegible] in bear in mind the [illegible] distinctly inspired preaching which says [illegible] Through the prudence of them which [illegible] authority the city shall be inhabited.

The Spiritual Destitution of Victoria.

EDITOR STANDARD:—What's up? Colonist turning pious? Is the man [illegible] better and is drawing nigh [illegible] the morn [illegible] history with which he has [illegible] so long afflicted coming to a crisis? Or is it a dodge, in order to secure the position of Sergeant (his old occupation by the bye) to the new Penitentiary about to be built? If his other efforts to obtain an office having failed, so that he now feels himself politically "going where the woodbine twineth." It is whispered among those who know a thing or two that this consolation will also be denied him, and that he will not be permitted to preach to the spiritually destitute in the gaol, consequently no pickings from that quarter. It is even said that bad and all as it is the moral atmosphere in that dismal place, his presence would taint and poison it. Out upon the hypocrisy of such cant! the public are sick of such stuff.

CHAMELEON.

A. Gideon, Merchant Tailor, has removed his place of business to the store adjoining the Colonial Hotel, Government street, four doors from Yates street, where he is prepared to sell, at reduced rates, Custom Made Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods. Also, Clothing made to order, according to the latest Style.

WE wonder what induced David Green to advertise in the columns of Government street, as everyone is aware that he keeps the best fashionable ready clothing store south of San Francisco.

(Halifax, N. S., Acadian Recorder, Sept. 21.)

The correspondence between the leading men upon the support in the new House of Commons of the four members from British Columbia, and the six from British Columbia, [illegible] give them all these; and the Reformers would still have a majority in the House. But it is [illegible] out it is [illegible] A's Government will receive aid and sympathy to the extent expected from the Northwest. We have before us a letter from Victoria, V. I., [illegible] well informed politician, in which it is stated that much disappointing exists in the Colony since Confederation. Not only has the Government [illegible] towards carrying out the conditions upon which the compact of Union was entered into, but they have not even [illegible] the Lieutenant Governor with positions in the Colony. Recently, the government of that extensive district, Queen Mary of New Brunswick, to the position of Queen Queen of British Columbia, has given rise to much [illegible] and it is stated that the Ottawa Government will be the [illegible] tative. He also intimates that [illegible] will be the [illegible] of the British Columbia members [illegible] the party which holds the reins of power, [illegible] the new administration [illegible] the Colony demand that the representatives should be to [illegible] to accede with and possess the confidence of the Government; but, adds the writer notably—"there is nothing to prevent them helping [illegible] administration into power."

CHARLES GOOD,
Clerk of the Legislative Assembly.

Provincial Secretary's Office,
30th August, 1872.

WHEREAS by a Notice from the Colonial Secretary's Office, dated the 14th of July, 1869, the Districts of North and South Saanich were created a School District, under the title of "The Saanich School District;"

And whereas it is advisable to alter the boundaries of the said District;

Notice is hereby given, that the boundaries of the said Saanich School District are hereby altered as follows:—

The Saanich School District shall comprise all that District known on the Official Map as North Saanich, and that portion of the District known as North Saanich as lies between a straight line drawn from Saanich Arm to Brown Bay, along the centre of the [illegible] connecting the District of Brown's Ferry and the boundary of the District of South Saanich, as laid down on the Official Map of the said District.
